GUARDIAN SAFETY SERVICES PARTNERS WITH 360TRAINING.COM TO PROVIDE E-LEARNING TRAINING SOLUTIONS

BAKERSFIELD, CA (June 1, 2010) - Guardian Safety Services, a Kern County provider of industrial safety sales, services and consulting, has partnered with 360Training.com and has just announced the immediate availability of on-line OSHA compliant training courses through their E-Learning University portal.

“Providing OSHA required training is already one of Guardian’s core consulting services. Frequently our corporate clients may have one or two employees who missed a scheduled training class and by partnering with 360Training.com, we can provide an on-line training solution, giving our customers an economical and convenient alternative for those employees to complete that training requirement.” says Christine Settlemyre, President.

E -Learning courses, easily accessible through Guardian Safety’s website, are effective and require a minimal amount of employee time. The current E-Learning course catalog includes courses ranging from OSHA Construction and General Industry (including the 10 & 30 Hour) to Hazardous Waste, Healthcare and even Human Resources courses. There are also a limited number of Construction courses available in Spanish.
